1

Pay Yourself First

Put some of your tax refund in an emergency savings account. Through the year, try to save at least $1,000 in an emergency savings account to pay for unexpected costs. Saving $5 a week, $15 a paycheck or $50 a month can add up quickly!

2

Create a Spending Plan

Determine your monthly income and expenses, keep track of your daily spending habits and make a plan to meet your monthly expenses. This spending plan will help you reduce your financial anxiety and give you control over your money.

3

Set Your Goals

Set some short-term and long-term financial goals specific to the needs of you and your family. Whether your family's goal is to buy a house, pay for college, take a trip or pay down debt, be sure to write down your goals and stick to your plan.
